1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

3 Pursuant to Rules 23(e) and 54 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Court-appointed
4 Lead Plaintiffs Bristol County Retirement System and Inter-Local Pension Fund GCC/IBT
6 respectfully submit this reply memorandum in further support of (i) Lead Plaintiffs’ Motion for 7 Final Approval of Class Action Settlement and Plan of Allocation of Settlement Proceeds (ECF
8 No. 125), and (ii) Lead Counsel’s Motion for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses (ECF
9 No. 126).

10 Now that the November 27, 2017 deadline for objections and exclusions has passed, Lead 11 Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel respectfully submit that the reaction of the Settlement Class to the 12 Settlement, Plan of Allocation, and Lead Counsel’s motion for attorneys’ fees and litigation 13 expenses has been overwhelmingly positive. Approximately 16,900 notice packets have been 14 mailed to potential Settlement Class members or their nominees as of December 5, 2017. See 15 Supplemental Affidavit of Jose C. Fraga Regarding (A) Mailing of the Notice and Proof of 16 Claim Form; and (B) Report on Requests for Exclusion, dated December 5, 2017 (“Supp.
17 Mailing Aff.”) ¶ 2, filed herewith. No one has objected to the Settlement or the requested
18 attorney’s fees and expenses, and there has been only one objection to the Plan of Allocation, 19 which should be overruled as discussed below. In addition, no one has requested exclusion from 20 the Settlement Class. Id. ¶ 3. As a result, Lead Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel respectfully submit 21 that the reaction of the Settlement Class strongly supports approval of the Settlement, the Plan of 22 Allocation, and the requested attorneys’ fees and expenses.

23 In addition to reporting the reaction of the Settlement Class, submitted herewith are tables
24 of settlement and fee-related data compiled by Lead Counsel from 10 securities settlements that

26 <sup>1</sup> Capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein have the meanings set forth and defined in the 27 Stipulation and Agreement of Settlement, dated as of August 4, 2017 (ECF No. 113-1, the “Stipulation”).

1 have been distributed to eligible class members, and one table summarizing the fee and expense
2 request in the instant case. See Exhibit 1 to Reply Declaration of Jonathan Gardner, dated 3 December 5, 2017 (“Reply Decl.”), submitted herewith. Although the Court did not request this 4 data at the September 5, 2017 preliminary approval hearing, Lead Counsel are aware of the 5 Court’s interest in this area and such a request recently was made of Labaton Sucharow LLP in 6 an unrelated case now pending before the Court.

7 II. ARGUMENT

8 A. The Reaction of the Settlement Class Strongly Supports 9 Approval of the Settlement and Plan of Allocation

10 The reaction of a class to a settlement is a significant factor in assessing its fairness and 11 adequacy. Indeed, “the absence of a large number of objections to a proposed class action 12 settlement raises a strong presumption that the terms of a proposed class settlement action are 13 favorable to the class members.” In re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1043
14 (N.D. Cal. 2008); Destefano v. Zynga Inc., No. 12-cv-04007-JSC, 2016 WL 537946, at *10
15 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2016) (same). “Put another way, a ‘court may appropriately infer that a class 16 action settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable when few class members object to it.’” Id.
17 (quoting Larsen v. Trader Joe’s Co., No. 11-cv-05188-WHO, 2014 WL 3404531, at *5 (N.D.
18 Cal. July 11, 2014).

19 Here, no Settlement Class Member has objected to the Settlement. The absence of 20 objections to a settlement “speaks volumes with respect to the overwhelming degree of support 21 for the Proposed Settlement among the Class Members. That unanimous, positive reaction to the 22 Proposed Settlement is compelling evidence that the Proposed Settlement is fair, just, reasonable 23 and adequate.” Nat’l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 529 (C.D.
24 Cal. 2004); see also Arnold v. Fitflop USA, LLC, No. 11-CV-0973 W(KSC), 2014 WL 1670133, 25 at *8 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 28, 2014) (reaction to the settlement “presents the most compelling 26 argument favoring settlement” where only one objection was filed “indicating that the vast 27

1 majority of Class Members and other concerned parties are likely satisfied with the resolution of 2 this case”).

3 Similarly, the fact that no requests for exclusion have been received in response to the 4 mailing of 16,944 Notices further supports approval of the Settlement. See, e.g., Zynga, Inc., 5 2016 WL 537946, at *10 (noting that a low number of exclusions supports the reasonableness of 6 a securities class action settlement).

7 In addition, the fact that there has only been one objection to the Plan of Allocation,
8 which should be overruled for the reasons discussed below, supports its approval. See Atlas v.
9 Accredited Home Lenders Holding Co., No. 07-CV-00488-H (CAB), 2009 WL 3698393, at *4
10 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 4, 2009) (noting the “predominantly positive response” to the plan of allocation 11 where only two objections to it were submitted).

12 1. Keane Objection to Plan of Allocation

13 Joseph Keane, who appears to be a member of the Settlement Class, has submitted an 14 objection to the proposed Plan of Allocation (ECF No. 129). See also Reply Decl. Exhibit 2.
15 Mr. Keane objects to the fact that the Recognized Loss formulas, in Section B of the Plan
16 appearing on page 8 of the Notice (ECF No. 127-3), cap purchase prices at the $15.00 per share
17 IPO price. The formulas do not use purchase prices that are greater than $15.00 per share and 18 Mr. Keane purchased 500 shares at $32.85 and 500 shares at $34.80. See Exhibit 2. He writes, 19 “Using the $15 IPO price as a purchase price cap doesn’t fairly and fully reflect the actual 20 purchase prices.” Id. He sold his shares for a trading loss.

21 “The adequacy of a plan of allocation is governed by the same standards of review 22 applicable to the settlement as a whole—the plan must be fair, reasonable, and adequate.” Atlas, 23 2009 WL 3698393, at *4. While it is true that the Plan of Allocation formulas do not fully 24 reflect actual purchase prices, this is because the plan applies the statutory damages provisions of 25 Section 11 of the 1933 Act. The 1933 Act also caps purchase prices at the IPO price:

26 The suit authorized under subsection (a) may be to recover such 27 damages as shall represent the difference between the amount paid for the security (not exceeding the price at which the security was

1            offered to the public) and (1) the value thereof as of the time such 2            suit was brought, or (2) the price at which such security shall have 3            been disposed of in the market before suit, or (3) the price at which 4            such security shall have been disposed of after suit but before 5            judgment if such damages shall be less than the damages 6            representing the difference between the amount paid for the 7            security (not exceeding the price at which the security was offered 8            to the public) and the value thereof as of the time such suit was 9            brought. . .

7            See 15 U.S.C. 77k(e) (emphasis added). Accordingly while Mr. Keane may object that his 8            purchase prices are not fully reflected, they are fairly reflected because the formulas follow the 9            statutory framework that would have governed class members' recoveries had the case
 10           proceeded to trial. Mr. Keane is essentially objecting to the fact that he is not going to receive 11           his trading losses, but that is not the appropriate measure of loss in a Section 11 case.

12           Because the Plan of Allocation follows the statutory framework for establishing damages
 13           under the 1933 Act, it is respectfully submitted that it provides a fair, reasonable, and adequate 14           process for determining claims and Mr. Keane's objection should be overruled.

15           B.        The Lack of Objections Supports the Reasonableness
 16           of the Requested Attorneys' Fees and Expenses

17           Not one Settlement Class Member has objected to Lead Counsel's motion for an award of 18           attorneys' fees and payment of litigation expenses. The fact that there have been no objections is 19           strong evidence that the requested fee is fair and reasonable. See, e.g., Zynga, 2016 WL 537946,
 20           at *18 ("the lack of objection by any Class Members also supports the 25 percent fee"); In re
 21           Immune Response Sec. Litig., 497 F. Supp. 2d 1166, 1177 (S.D. Cal. 2007) ("the lack of 22           objection from any Class Member supports the attorneys' fees award").

23           III.        CONCLUSION

24           For the reasons set forth above and in Lead Plaintiffs' and Lead Counsel's November 13, 25           2017 submissions, Lead Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel respectfully request that the Court issue the 26           proposed Final Order and Judgment, submitted herewith; issue the proposed Order Approving 27           Plan of Allocation, submitted herewith; and issue the proposed Order Awarding Attorney's Fees

1 and Expenses, submitted herewith. On December 12, 2017, Lead Plaintiffs will file a submission
2 reporting on the Claims received to date.
